

Masons

Full of Yorkshire character, this distinctive gin is distilled in 200 litre batches using a traditional alembic copper still. Combine the famously pure spring water from nearby Harrogate with Masons' own secret mix of botanicals, led by juniper – the producer even has its own juniper bushes now – with citrus elements, and you have a gin that really stands out from the crowd.

In keeping with this producer's small scale, high quality ethos each 70cl bottle displays its own hand-written batch and bottle number. Smaller 20cl sample sized bottles are also available.

Alongside the Dry Yorkshire Gin flagship sits a pair of quirkier flavoured editions in the form of Lavender and Yorkshire Tea, winner of a Silver medal at the 2016 San Francisco World Spirits Competition, as well as Masons' very own Yorkshire Vodka.

Tasting note: On the nose, saffron, aniseed and lemon grass combine with a hint of malt. The palate shows distinctive notes of fennel and even liquorice along with a classic juniper and pine character. That same juniper comes through strongly on the finish, mixed with parma violet and lemon zest.
